THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT.

Organ of the Democracy of Lima and Allen County.

Issued Every Evening Except Sunday.

THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT PUBL'G CO.

OFFICE—TIMES BUILDING,
No. 221 North Main Street, Lima, O.
TELEPHONE CALL, No. 84.The Times-Democrat
prints daily the regular telegraphic report of the Associate Press.THE POLITICAL ASSASSINATION ISSUE.The Republican party makes the proud boast that it never shrinks from an issue.In Republican states they are accepting the political assassination issue with a consistency which is commendable, whether there is anything else commendable about it or not. Gov.
Mount, of Indiana, has accepted it by offering his state as an asylum for the Republican ex-governor of Kentucky,
who is wanted at home as an accessory
to the murder of the governor-elect of that state.We must suppose that Nash and Stone, the Republican governors of Ohio and Pennsylvania, have accepted
it. Taylor is going from his asylum in Indiana to attend the national Republican convention in Philadelphia
as an honored delegate.How can he do this with any sense of security unless he has an understanding with Governor Nash and Stone? Or, failing any understanding with Governor Nash, how can he go without an understanding with the Republican governors of the states
through which he must pass in order to reach Philadelphia?He must have an understanding with Stone certainly, for there would be no feeling of security for Taylor in Philadelphia if he were not sure of Stone's hospitality.Evidently the R-publican governors are meeting this issue of political assassination with high courage. Can the delegates to the national convention of their party do less?The country has a right to expect a very strong and prominent deliverance
in the Philadelphia platform in favor of the right of asylum for political assassins in Republican states.There might also be a few sneering words with reference to the memory of the Democrat of Kentucky who was killed by a Republican bullet. (Chicago Chronicle.)The supposition in the third paragraph of the above article is only too true, and the people of Ohio blush with shame that it is.Governor Nash, prior to his departure for the Philadelphia convention
yesterday telephoned Taylor's people that he was going out of the state, and that when he was gone there would be no one in Ohio who had authority or power to honor a requisition from the authorities of Kentucky for the arrest of Taylor, while that personage was in Ohio territory enroute to the national convention. Thus he—the governor of one of the greatest states in the union—conspires to thwart the end of justice in attempting to bring to trial
a man charged with complicity in a heinous murder.If Taylor is guilty of the crime with which he is charged he should be punished for it the same as any other mal-factor. If he is innocent he should not be afraid to have his case tried in the courts.It is extremely bad form for the governors of Indiana and Ohio to attempt to shield criminals, and no man who is not a criminal should fear to go to a trial and have his innocence established. If Taylor was one of the gang who conspired to kill Governor Goebel he is not entitled to any more protection in his crime than the man who was guilty of the murder of the man in Possum Hollow, in this city
a few months ago. Murder is murder, and that the man charged with such a crime occupied a high position is no excuse for his being shielded from the consequences of his crime.No man wants Taylor or any of his associates punished for the murder of Goebel if they are not guilty, nor do the people of any political party in Ohio want the governor of this state to use a party to a scheme to protect him from the consequences of a crime to which he is charged with being an accessory, if he is guilty as charged in the indictment against him.Yet that is just what Nash has tricked done by agreeing to not honor
the requisition for the return of Taylor
to Kentucky, when this same individual was on Ohio soil and thereby under the jurisdiction of the governor of this state.

BUNCOMBE POLITICS.

Republican Attempt to Shelve
the Trust Issue.

CONDEMNED BY G. O. P. ORGANS.

The Amendment Proposed Would Place All Private Business in the Power of Congress and Wipe Out
State Rights—Cheap Campaign
Trick to "Put Democrats in a Hole."The absolute dishonesty of the Republican action in presenting and supporting an illegal filibuster amendment to the constitution in the closing hours of congress is so flagrant as to call forth condemnation even from Republican sources, says the Atlanta Constitution. It is the cheapest kind of political buncombe and nothing else.The New York Sun, a drier in the wool Republican organ, is not sparing in the severity of its criticism of the Republican house leaders. The Sun declares that this is "the most disonest and therefore the most discreditable piece of work achieved during the present session by the leaders of Republican policy in the house" and adds that "the dishonesty of the performance lies in the fact that there was no expectation on the part of the author of this resolution or of the Republicans
on the judiciary committee who favorably reported it or of the Republicans of the house who were willing to vote for it that the proposed sixteenth amendment will ever amount to more than a campaign trick of the cheapest and unwarlike description.""Buncombe politics," says The Sun, and adds:"It is deserving of the contempt of all citizens who value a great party's reputation for sincerity of purpose or bold that good faith is a matter of consequence in the individuals entrusted with the responsibilities of political leadership. With cynical indifference to every consideration except the desire to 'put the Democrats in a hole'
the trust issue this farce has been allowed to proceed to the point which it reached in the house yesterday. It is a mere trick for temporary advantage on the eve of the national conventions."With regard to the amendment itself
The Sun says:"Its revolutionary character, the sweeping change it would effect in the entire system of our institutions, the bestowal upon congress of an unlimited and arbitrary power over all private business in all the states and without regard to state lines or state rights, need not even be discussed. There is no more prospect of its adoption by a two-thirds vote of both house and senate and of its ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the 45 states
than there is of the adoption of a constitutional amendment vesting in the federal government the direct management of all the myriad industries of this land."On the same line the Washington Post, in congratulating the Democrats upon coming out squarely against the amendment, says:"Mr. Ray's proposition is obviously impracticable and, as many believe, was intended to be so. By supporting it the Democrats would have deliberately committed at a virtually permanent retirement of the trust issue—withdrawn it from the campaign—and thereby robbed their party of one of its most powerful engines of war. They express their utter disbelief in the sincerity of any representative Republican effort to curtail the power of the trusts. It would have been, therefore, suicidal on their part to commit themselves to an arrangement most palpably calculated to serve the alleged purposes of their antagonists."While at first blush it might seem good politics for individual congressmen to vote for any measure whose professed aim is the restriction of these trust combinations, it is very evident that the Democrats could not support
this particular proposition without stigmatizing themselves in every respect.
They knew that this proposition was brought forward solely for the purpose of partisan advantage and that if the Republicans thought such an amendment would injure the trusts in any way they would not be supporting it, therefore both from the standpoint of principles and of party politics they are right in opposing the adoption of the amendment.The Right to Rob.
The trusts possess some curious ideas concerning "rights." An Indiana law requiring factories to pay their employees weekly has just been declared constitutional. The tin plate, shored and plate glass trusts resisted this law on the ground that the state had no right to legislate against their "rights." The "rights" they meant were the "rights"
to pay when they got ready and such things as they deemed right.—National Democrat.Plague Take It!
With the bubonic plague in San Francisco, the black vomit in Rio Janeiro, travels in Porto Rico, the Neely scandal
in Cuba, contract labor in Hawaii, bribery and corruption in the Philippines, shiploads of Japanese coolies on their way, trusts, monopolies, a multitude of strikes and other evils too numerous to mention the people of the United States stand in great need of a change of doctors.—National Democrat.The Flag in Danger.
If the McKinley officials keep on utilizing the shade of the flag to exploit their villainous schemes in our outlying dependencies, the probability is that the flag will have to be bauld
down to keep it from spelling.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.

New Improvements to Be Made at the Naval Station.In the very near future the greatest naval station in the United States and one of the greatest in the world will be found right in the midst of the metropolis, says the New York Herald. Nearly $2,000,000 is to be spent in improvements at the Brooklyn navy yard. Of this sum $1,000,000 will go toward the construction of the finest and biggest drydock on either side of the Atlantic.This drydock will be so enormous that two ordinary cruisers can be floated into it and repaired simultaneously.
The sounding and hoisting for this mammoth structure have been in progress for weeks. Besides the drydock there are to be a huge storehouse and a railroad on which freight may be shipped from one end of the navy yard to the other.Admiral Eliott has found that the Brooklyn navy yard has suffered more from fire than any other in the United States. In consequence a thorough reorganization of the system of fire protection for the yard is to be effected. A series of pipes will be run in all directions connecting with all the present buildings and those to be erected. Connected with the pipes at the water front will be powerful pumps. Having all the resources of the East river,
there never should be any inadequacy in the supply of water. Thoroughly piped fire drills and a quick working signal system will be depended upon to avert future conflagrations. Like the $900,000 fire in the pattern and tool house last winter.The picturesque old ferry, one of the most picturesque attributes of the place, is also to go. The old order given way to the new, and a steel bridge is to supersede the clumsy boat which has made its way in tedious oscillation
across the channel by means of a lawson or chain for these many years. The bridge, which will cost $150,000, will be swung out of the way when vessels are shunted toward the drydocks.At a cost of $80,000 a pumping station is to be built for drydock No. 3. It will be of the best modern type, with improved machinery. The new appropriation will also enable the navy department to put in the last of the stone quays about the Whitney basin. This work has been under way for years and has cost the government about $500,000. Fifty thousand dollars will be expended in this direction. An appropriation of $150,000 will be used to reconstruct "building No. 21," as the small boat shop is officially designated.The need for dispatch boats, launches and cutters is growing so rapidly with the addition of the Kentucky, the Kearsarge and other new warships that more facilities for small boat construction are imperatively needed.The electric light and power plant in the navy yard is to be extended at a cost of $25,000, and the surgeons' quarters and dispensary offices are to be improved under a $12,000 appropriation.
The old circular building where the crowds of workers gather each day is to be replaced with an adequate modern physician's office. The railroad system will use up $200,000 of the 2,000,000 appropriation. The new storehouse will cost $150,000. When this is ready, munitions of war, provisions, etc., will be transferred with greater celerity,
and "hurry orders" to fit out a vessel
will be executed with ease as against the delays and hindrances encountered
now.The Vogue in Parasols.
The smart parasol for this summer has a large golden butterfly poised on one of the goads, with sequins for wings, says the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The parasol is rather plain otherwise, but the butterfly gives it all the dash and brilliance that may be required.

A Crash Came

While the Train Was Leaving Chicago.Pennsylvania Passenger No.
8 Ran Its Nose Into Some Freight Cars,But the Only One Injured Was the Engineer—News of the Railroads and Those Who Operate Them.

Passenger business on the Pennsylvania has been decidedly heavy during the past few days, owing to the Republican National convention at Philadelphia, and all of its spare coaches are being hurried eastward to help handle the crowds that are pouring in and out of the city this week. A train of thirty-nine coaches passed through Lima Saturday enroute to Philadelphia for that purpose.

Naturally this hurry to do business makes the risk greater, and the first report of a calamity came from Chicago where Pennsylvania train No. 8, which passes through here at 9:20 p. m., crashed into a freight train and gave the 309 California delegates on board almost as severe a shock as they will get next November. None of the passengers were seriously hurt and engineer T. H. Gould escaped with only slight injuries. Speaking of the collision the Chicago Chronicle says:

"Hours behind time, a special train with 400 California delegates to the ahead crashed into a freight train at Thirty-ninth street on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway yesterday afternoon. The politicians were thrown into a panic and whistles and hearts were supplanted by yells and leaps.

"The passenger consisted of an engine, an express car and six coaches. The Californians, anxious to reach Philadelphia hours before the convention assembled in order that their state might be represented well in the anti-convention conference, had secured an expensive to secure the swiftest possible route east. In order to accommodate the special the Union Pacific, the Chicago and Northwestern and the roads running east of Chicago had made extraordinary preparations for the special and a clear track was promised the delegates.

"Leaving San Francisco on schedule time, the special hurried across the western prairies at a merry clip, devouring time and almost establishing records. Twice before reaching Chicago vexing delays had occurred and the special rolled into Chicago two and a half hours behind time.

"Determined to make up the loss, Engineer Gould, whose engine was to draw the special from Chicago to Fort Wayne, impatiently awaited the arrival of the train, and no time was lost in changing engines and pulling out of the station. At 4:10 o'clock Gould was at the throttle of his engine, pulling the special through the southern part of Chicago at a lively rate. It was supposed that a clear right of way had been provided and the train hurried smoothly along the labyrinth of tracks.

"Nearing Thirty-ninth street the engineer saw a freight train pulling across his path to a siding on the west of the through track. He slackened speed slightly to give the freight time to pull into the switch, as he supposed. But he gauged the distance wrongly and the crash came. Three empty freight cars were demolished and overturned and the engine demolished. Amid the hail of wreckage, flying glass and splinters Gould and J. E. Gaskins, fireman, remained at their post and brought the train to a stop before it left the track."

HIT A COW.

Engineer Jeff Cook while sending the 261 at the limit of speed through the North Lima yards, struck a cow on the C. H. & D. track, with the result that some one has been reduced to the unsatisfactory extremity of buying milk. The animal was ground beneath the wheels, part of the bones and flesh being found in the ash pan and on top of the boiler. The 261 had to have a new pilot as the result of the accident.

TEN LET OUT.

The car repair shops of the C. H. & D. have been reduced in force, 10 of the employees receiving their dismissal last week. It is said the discharged men made a demand for an increase, but the application came at a time when their services could be at least temporarily disposed of, and they were let out.

TO SHORTEN THE TIME.

Tomorrow the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton will shorten up the time of the Michigan Flyer between Cincinnati and Detroit. The leaving time from Cincinnati will be 1 p. m., the same as at present, but the train will arrive at Toledo at 6:40 p. m. instead of 6:45 p. m. as at present, and will arrive at Detroit at 8:25 p. m. 20 minutes earlier than under the present schedule. Direct connection will be maintained. Direct connection will be City.

YESTERDAY'S EXCURSIONS.

There were two popular excursions on the C. H. & D. and L. E. & W. roads yesterday. The former had 4 complete trains from Dayton to Toledo, two of which carried employees from the cash register factory. The other trains were well patronized by people along the line, 143 tickets being sold by the Lima agent.

The L. E. & W. ran another of its excursions from Indianapolis, a train of ten coaches unloading its burden at Celina, St. Marys and Lima. The crowd brought into this city numbered between three and four hundred.

NOTES.

Railroad men are all interested in the matter of who is to be the new manager of the Clover Leaf. George L. Bradberry, late general manager of the Lake Erie & Western, is one of the latest men suggested for the place and there are those who think he will be successful in landing the job as he has some very influential men at his back. He made a splendid record with the Lake Erie & Western and is a railroad man in all that the term implies. The recent sale of the road to the Vanderbilt interests left him out of its management. The New York Commercial says, however, that powerful influences have endorsed another man because of his familiarity with the property, as well as his ability and general fitness for the place. The Commercial refrains from mentioning names in connection with the last statement.

The change in the time card of the C. H. & D. effects the old schedule but slightly. No. 4 arrives at 4:30, three minutes earlier and departs at 4:35. No. 3 arrives at 4:35 and departs at 4:43.

Henry J. Keller, formerly a passenger conductor on the L. E. & W., but now operating in the same capacity on the Wheeling & Lake Erie, was the guest of his sons, Henry and Charles Keller, of this city. He remained over Sunday renewing old acquaintances he has not seen since he left Lima several years ago.

Two of the new engines ordered by the C. H. & D. the 327 and 328, are here at the shops for a trial trip. It remains for the motive department to assign the engines to the divisions where they are mostly needed.

About 25 of the C. H. & D. shop hands and other employees of the road went to Cincinnati on No. 7 Friday night and spent the day at the Zoo where the A. O. U. W. order was having a big outing. Some of the boys remained over Sunday and took in the other places of amusement in and around the metropolis.

Engine No. 7, of the C. H. & D. has been turned out of the shops after a thorough overhauling and a new coat of paint.

Freight Agent Kirkland, says, the Fort Wayne Sentinel, will move today into his new quarters, which have just been completed and handsomely furnished. Tomorrow his force will be increased by the addition of four new clerks from the Chicago freight department.

The boys on the Pittsburgh hailed the pay car Saturday.

The C. H. & D. is expending a large sum of money in improving its road bed and building new bridges. An iron bridge to cross the canal at Troy is almost completed and the company is contemplating a new bridge over the Miami which will not cost less than $50,000.

Engineer Milt Craig of Harrison ave., sent a leader messenger after a housebreaker Friday night but the fellow was going too fast for Milt to get the range. The attempt to get into the house was like the bungling job of an amateur, as the thief made enough noise to arouse the household before he got a glimpse of the interior.

A freight car on the C. H. & D. broke down at Findlay Saturday, owing to defective trucks.

Passenger train No. 6 on the Pittsburgh struck a horse and buggy at Van Wert yesterday, in which was a man and two little children. The rig was demolished but the occupants all escaped with comparative slight injuries.

JUDGE

Mooney Will Decide the QuestionAt Issue in the Johnson Eject-ment Proceedings.

Heard the Case Argued Saturday Evening, But Has Not Yet Returned to Hand Down the Decision.

COURT. The present term of court is dragging out a "miserable existence" and the end will probably come with the disposal of four civil cases assigned for trial next week. Only a few matters have been up for consideration during the past week and they were motions, or questions to be decided of slight interest to the public.

The monotony at the clerk's office was broken into Saturday evening by the filing of a suit by J. C. Thompson to oust C. L. Ackerman from the rooms occupied by the Elk restaurant and saloon. The action is somewhat different than the one begun some time ago, as the petition charges a forfeiture of the lease because of the defendant having sold liquor to minors and on Sunday.

Prompt action was taken by Reidenour and Halfhill defendants attorneys, by the filing of a motion asking that the plaintiff be enjoined from bringing the proceedings for the reason that a similar action is on file and awaiting disposal. Judge Mooney came to Lima and held a session of court Saturday night, when the matter was argued, and at its conclusion Judge Mooney stated that he would take the case under consideration until today.

BIO IN CONGRESS

Senators in 1860 he was elected to the United States Congress from the same district, and died in 1849, being succeeded by Amos E. Wood of the same county.

JONATHAN D. MORRIS.

Jonathan D. Morris, a man of more than local prominence in Clermont county, was honored by his fellow-citizens with two terms in the national legislature, and 20 years as clerk of the courts. He was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1847 from the Seventh district, Clermont, Brown and Highland counties, as successor to General Thomas L. Hamer, deceased, who had been elected to that congress, but died before taking his seat. At the October election, in 1848, Mr. Morris was elected to the Thirty-first congress from the same district.

He was born in Clermont county, Ohio, in 1804, and died in Connersville, Indiana, May 16, 1875.

JOHN L. TAYLOR.

General John L. Taylor, a prominent citizen of Ross county, was elected four times to congress. He was first elected in 1848 from the Eighth district, composed of Ross, Pike, Jackson and Scioto counties; was re-elected to the Thirty-first in 1848, and in 1850 to the Thirty-second, from the same district. In 1852 he was elected to the Thirty-third congress from the Tenth district, embracing Ross, Scioto, Lawrence, Pike and Jackson.

He was born in Stafford county, Virginia, March 7, 1805, and came to Chillicothe in 1825, and was for many years a major general of militia. After his service in congress he was given an important position in the department of interior. He died in Washington, D. C., Sept. 6, 1870.

THOMAS O. EDWARDS.

Thomas O. Edwards of Fairfield county was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Ninth district, composed of the counties of Fairfield, Pickaway, Fayette and Madison. He served but a single term. He was born in Maryland in 1803, and died in Wheeling, West Virginia, in 1870.

DANIEL DUNCAN.

Daniel Duncan of Licking county, a successful merchant, served six terms in the congress, having been elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Tenth district, composed of the counties of Licking, Franklin and Delaware. He was born in Shippensburg, Pennsylvania, July 22, 1806, and died in Washington, D. C., June, 1819, immediately following the close of his term.

JOHN K. MILLER.

John K. Miller of Knox county, who was born in Ohio in 1809, served two terms in the national house of representatives. He was a man of local prominence, who went to congress rather to please his constituents than to follow the bent of his own inclinations. He was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Eleventh district, Knox, Marion and Richland, and to the Thirty-first congress from the same district.

THOMAS RITCHIEY.

Thomas Ritchiey was a prominent Democratic leader and member of the bar of Perry county. He appointed General Philip H. Sheridan as a cadet to West Point during his second term in congress. He was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Thirteenth district, Perry, Morgan and Washington counties, and was elected to the Thirty-third in 1852 from the Eleventh district, composed of Perry, Fairfield, Hocking, Vinton, Athens and Meigs counties. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1798, and came as a boy to Ohio, and spent the most of his life on his large farm near the town of Cosmopolis.

NATHAN EVANS.

Of Guernsey county served two terms as a representative in congress. He was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Fourteenth district, Guernsey and Muskingum, and was re-elected to the Thirty-first from the same district.

Judge Evans was born in Belmont county, Ohio, June 24, 1804, and filled a number of minor offices before going to congress. He was elected to the common pleas bench in 1858.

WILLIAM KENNON, JR.

Of Belmont county, was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Fifteenth district, composed of the counties of Belmont, Harrison and Monroe. He was born in Carrickfergus, Ireland, June 12, 1802, and came to America while a youth. He studied law and was admitted to the practice, and was prosecuting attorney of Belmont county. He was a nephew of William Kennon, above.

SAMUEL LAHM.

Samuel Lahm of Stark county was a man of local prominence, but having few political ambitions. He was elected to the Thirtieth congress in 1846 from the Eighteenth district, Stark and Wayne counties, as a Democrat, but sought no further political honors. His law practice demanded his entire attention, and to this he devoted his time, being associated in the practice with David A. Starkweather and Judge David K. Carter. In politics he was a Democrat. He was born in Lethersburg, Md., April 22, 1812.

JOHN CROWELL.

Was a leading citizen of Trumbull county, filling a number of local public stations. He was elected to the Ohio state senate in 1849 and served during the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth general assemblies. In 1849 he was elected to the Thirtieth congress from the Nineteenth district, Trumbull, Summit and Portage counties, and was re-elected to the Thirty-first in 1848, from the same district.

He was born in Haddam, Middlesex county, Connecticut, Sept. 15, 1801, was admitted to the bar and located at Warren in 1822, and rose to prominence in his profession. After retiring from congress he removed to Cleveland, and where, in connection with his practice, he became president of the Law school. He lived to the age of ninety.

DAVID T. DISNEY.

David T. Disney, a prominent lawyer of Cincinnati, was one of the ablest leaders of the Democratic party in Ohio from 1839 to 1850, and was repeatedly honored with official recognition. He was a man of more than usual legislative tact and ability, and served with great credit to himself and his constituents, both in the Ohio legislature and in congress.

He was elected to the house of representatives of the Thirtieth general assembly in 1851 and served until 1852. In the latter year he was elected to the state senate and was speaker of that body during the Thirty-second and Thirty-third general assemblies.

In 1848 he was elected to the Thirty-first congress from the First district, Hamilton county; re-elected from the same district to the Thirty-second in 1849, and to the Thirty-third in 1850 from the First district, which was then composed of a part of Hamilton, embracing one-half of the population.

He was born in Maryland about the year 1798, and came to Cincinnati when a young man. He died suddenly in 1857 at his home in Cincinnati, while making preparations to go to Madrid, Spain, in the capacity of United States minister, to which he had been appointed by President James Buchanan.

LEWIS D. CAMPBELL.

Of the prominent men of Butler county during the century none were more conspicuous than L. D. Campbell. He was born in 1811 and died in 1882. He was a statesman in the broadest sense of the word, and impressed himself upon his colleagues in congress. He was a Whig and the advocate of the protective tariff system until the fourth term he served in congress, when he changed his views on that subject and favored a material reduction on tariff duties, and the substitution of the ad valorem for the specific system.

He learned the art of typesetting when a boy in the office of the Cincinnati Gazette, and was rather partial to the newspaper business the rest of his life.

He was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Second district, Butler, Warren and Clinton. He was elected to the Thirty-second in 1849 from the same district. His district was made the Third under the apportionment of 1852, and comprised the counties of Butler, Preble and Montgomery. From this district he was elected in 1852 and 1854 to the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth congresses, and received the certificate of election to the Thirty-fifth, and held his seat therein for a portion of the term. His right to a seat was contested by Clement L. Vallandigham, to whom the seat was awarded.

During the Civil war he served with distinguished gallantry as a colonel of Ohio volunteers. He was minister to Mexico from 1856 to 1859, and in 1870 was elected to congress for the sixth time, serving in the Forty-second from the Third district, Preble, Montgomery and Warren.

MOSES B. CORWIN.

Moses B. Corwin was a leading Whig lawyer of Champaign for a quarter of a century, between 1835 and 1850. His son, John A. Corwin, who was subsequently elected to the supreme court of Ohio, was an intense Democrat, and a leader of that party in the same congressional district. When first chosen to congress Moses B. Corwin carried his district by over 2,500 majority.

When the Whigs renominated him again, the Democrats nominated John A. against him. The son challenged the father to a joint speaking canvass of the district, and the challenge was promptly accepted. There were immense meetings wherever they spoke. Both were brilliant and able orators, the father being superior only in the maturity of his judgment. The younger element is the Whig party, charmed with the younger man's dash and brill-lancy, broke over party lines, and the result was that John A. Corwin lacked only some 200 votes of defeating his father.

Moses B. Corwin represented Champaign county in the house of the general assembly from 1839 to 1841. He was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Fourth district, made up of Champaign, Union, Logan, Miami and Clark counties, and was again elected, in 1852, to the Thirty-third from the Eighth district, Champaign, Clark, Logan, Union and Delaware counties.

He was born in Bourbon county, Kentucky, Jan. 5, 1790, and died in Urbana, Ohio, April 7, 1872.

AMOS E. WOOD.

Of Sandusky county was elected in 1850 to the vacancy caused by the death of Rudolph Dickinson, of the Thirty-third congress, from the Sixth district, Sandusky, Wood, Hancock, Crawford, Ottawa and Wyandot counties, and died Oct. 9, during the same year, at Ft. Wayne, Ind., and was succeeded by Erasmus D. Peck of Wood county. He had served in the general assembly as a member of the house in the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth general assemblies and in the senate of the Forty-third and Forty-fourth. He was born in Jefferson county, New York, in 1810, and was a prominent agriculturist.

JOHN BELL.

John Bell of Sandusky county was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1849 from the Sixth district, above, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Amos E. Wood, three different men having been elected to the same congress from the same district. While he was a citizen of local prominence and highly respected, he was not a seeker after official preferment, choosing rather the quiet walks of private citizenship.

EDSON B. OLDS.

Dr. Edson B. Olds was long one of the Democratic leaders of the state. He represented Pickaway county in the lower house of the legislature in the Forty-first, Forty-fourth, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth general assemblies, and in the senate of the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth, being the speaker of that body in the Forty-fifth.

In 1845 he was elected to the Thirtieth congress from the Ninth district, Pickaway, Fayette, Madison and Fairfield counties, and was elected to the Thirty-second in 1849 from the same district. In 1852 he was elected from the Twelfth district, Pickaway, Franklin and Licking.

In 1863 he was arrested by the military authorities because of alleged disloyal utterances and confined in Ft. Lafayette, but was discharged without a formal trial. His arrest and confinement caused an immense political sensation at the time throughout the state.

Dr. Olds was born in Bennington, Vermont, on the 3d day of June, 1802, and died in Lancaster, Ohio, Jan. 21, 1869, where he located and resumed his practice of his profession after retiring from congress.

CHARLES SWEETSER.

Charles Sweetser of Delaware county was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Tenth district, Delaware, Franklin and Licking, and was elected to the Thirty-second in 1850 from the same district. He was a highly respected citizen, and was an industrious, conscientious member of congress, but without any great political ambitions and aspirations. Mr. Sweetser was born in Vermont in 1792, and located in Delaware when a young man. He studied law and was admitted to the bar, and became a lawyer of considerable prominence. He died at Delaware in 1861.

WILLIAM A. WHITTLESEY.

William A. Whittlesey of Washington county, a citizen of local prominence and highly respected, served a single term in congress, having been elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Thirteenth district, comprising Washington, Morgan and Perry counties. He was born in Connecticut in 1808, and lived beyond his seventy-fifth year.

WILLIAM F. HUNTER.

William F. Hunter of Monroe was twice chosen to the national house of representatives. He was first elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848, from the Fifteenth district, composed of Monroe, Belmont and Guernsey counties, and was re-elected to the Thirty-second in 1850 from the same district. He was born in Alexandria, Virginia, Dec. 10, 1808, and died at the age of 77.

MOSES HOAGLAND.

Moses Hoagland of Holmes county was a one-term member of the congress. He was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Sixteenth district, embracing Holmes, Coshocton and Tuscarawas counties. He afterward became United States judge for Washington territory. He was born in Ohio in 1820.

JOSEPH CABLE.

Joseph Cable was a man of local prominence in Carroll county, where he was born in 1827, and was twice elected to the national congress. He was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Seventeenth district, Carroll, Columbiana and Jefferson counties, and was re-elected in 1850 to the Thirty-second congress from the same district. Mr. Cable, upon retiring from congress, devoted his attention to his private business and the practice of his profession—the law.

DAVID K. CARTER.

Judge David K. Carter was one of the more prominent men of his day in Stark county, an eminent lawyer and an excellent citizen. Originally a Democrat, he later became a Republican. He was elected to the Thirty-first congress in 1848 from the Eighteenth district, Stark and Wayne counties, and re-elected to the Thirty-second from the same district. He went as minister to Bolivia in 1861.

He became chief justice of the District of Columbia after the Civil war, and was noted for the clearness and justness of his decisions. He was born in Rochester, N. Y., June 22, 1812, and died in Washington, D. C., April 16, 1887.

ALFRED P. EDGERTON.

In 1837, when he located in Defiance county, Ohio, Alfred P. Edgerton assumed the management of the American Land company and the Hicks Land company, with headquarters at Hicksville, and there conducted these interests with great success. Up to 1852, when the affairs of the two companies were practically wound up, he disposed of 140,000 acres of land to actual settlers. He replanted Hicksville, and added to its commercial and general interests, and was a man of the most liberal and progressive ideas.

He was a state senator from 1845 to 1847. In 1850 he was elected to the Thirty-second congress from the Fifth district, embracing Defiance, Mercer, Van Wert, Paulding, Lucas, Henry, Putnam, Allen, Shelby, Williams and Hardin counties, and was elected to the Thirty-third in 1852 from the same district. He was a Democratic leader both in the legislature and in congress.

He was one of the Democratic opponents to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise in 1855, which reopened the slavery question with renewed bitterness. President Cleveland appointed him as one of the civil service commissioners, and he discharged the duties of the office impartially, although he disagreed with the president's ideas. He removed to Ft. Wayne, Indiana, in 1857, and in 1862 became a resident of that state, still retaining many interests in Defiance county. He was born in Plattsburg, New York, in 1815, and died in 1893. He was a most liberal patron of education, and deeply interested in the common school system.

BENJAMIN STANTON.

Benjamin Stanton of Logan county was of Quaker descent, and was born in Belmont county, Ohio, March 4, 1809. He was apprenticed to and learned the tailoring trade, but subsequently studied law, was admitted to the bar and rose to distinction in the legal profession.

Admitted to the bar at Steubenville in 1833, he located in Bellefontaine in 1834, and was shortly after elected prosecuting attorney, where he resided until 1866, when he removed to West Virginia, where he died in 1888. In 1841-1842 he was a member of the Ohio senate, as a Whig. He became a Republican when that party was organized.

He was elected to the Thirty-second congress in 1850 from the Fourth district, Logan, Union, Miami, Champaign and Clark counties. In 1854 he was elected to the Thirty-fourth congress from the Eighth district, composed of Logan, Clark, Champaign, Union and Delaware counties, and was elected from the same district in 1856 to the Thirty-fifth, and in 1858 to the Thirty-sixth. He was elected lieutenant governor of Ohio in 1861 on the ticket with Governor David Tod, over John G. Marshall, by a vote of 205,935 to 151,978.

HIRAM BELL.

Hiram Bell was one of the early settlers of Darke county, and was of considerable local prominence. In 1836 he was elected as a representative in the state legislature, and re-elected in 1837, and again in 1838.

Later he was elected to congress and served a single term. In 1850 he was chosen to the Thirty-second congress from the Third district, Darke, Preble and Montgomery counties. Mr. Bell was born in Vermont, early in the century.

FREDERICK W. GREEN.

Was a prominent resident of Seneca county, and a man of wide affairs, progressive and public spirited. He was so well regarded by his neighbors that he was elected to the Thirty-second congress in 1850 from the Sixth district, Seneca, Wyandot, Wood, Hancock, Crawford and Ottawa counties, and re-elected to the Thirty-second in 1852 from the Ninth district, which then consisted of the counties of Seneca, Hardin, Marion, Wyandot, Crawford, Sandusky and Ottawa. He was born in Maryland about 1820, and removed to Ohio.

NELSON BARRERE.

Nelson Barrere was one of the pioneers of Adams county and stood high in the estimation of the people, who entrusted him with many local positions of trust and responsibility. He was chosen to the house of representatives in the Thirty-sixth general assembly in 1837. In 1850 he was elected to the Thirty-second congress from the Seventh district, Adams, Clermont, Brown and Highland counties. Mr. Barrere was a Democrat in his political affiliations. He was born in New Market, Highland county, April 1, 1805, and received his education at Augusta, Kentucky. He was admitted to the bar in 1833, and became a lawyer of more than ordinary prominence.

GEORGE H. BUSBY.

Of Marion county served but a single term in congress, having been elected in 1850 to the Thirty-second from the Eleventh district, composed of the counties of Marion, Knox and Richland.

Major Busby was born in Northumberland county, Virginia, in 1784, and was a major in the war of 1812. He emigrated originally from Virginia to Fairfield county, but removed thence to Marion county in 1822, where he engaged in mercantile pursuits and dealt in real estate. He was the first recorder of the county. He died in 1869.

JOHN WELCH.

Judge John Welch of Athens was infinitely less a politician than a lawyer and jurist. He served creditably in the state senate during the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth general assemblies. In 1850, in opposition to his wishes, he was elected to the Thirty-second congress from the Twelfth district, composed of Athens, Hocking, Scioto, Lawrence and Meigs counties.

He served two terms on the common pleas bench in the Seventh Judicial district, and in 1863 was elected to the supreme court of Ohio, serving in that capacity from 1869 to 1879. A portion of the time he was chief justice of the court. His decisions commanded the highest respect.

He was born in Harrison county, Ohio, Oct. 28, 1805, and lived beyond his eightieth year.

JAMES M. GAYLORD.

James M. Gaylord, a prominent lawyer and citizen of Morgan county, served a single term in congress, being elected to the Thirty-second in 1850 from the Thirteenth district, made up of the counties of Morgan, Perry and Washington. He was born in Ohio in 1818, and lived until he passed his seventieth year.

JOHN JOHNSON.

Of Coshocton county was elected to the Thirty-second congress in 1850 from the Sixteenth district, composed of the counties of Coshocton, Holmes and Tuscarawas. He served but a single term. He was a highly respected citizen and was intrusted with many local positions of trust and responsibility by his fellow-citizens. He was never ambitious, however, to figure in public life.

His chief occupation was farming. He was born in Ireland in 1808, and lived out nearly fourscore years.

EBEN NEWTON.

Was among the most prominent attorneys of Mahoning county, and northeastern Ohio, but little given to political aspirations. He served with credit in the Forty-first, Forty-second and Fifty-sixth general assemblies as a member of the senate.

In 1850 he was elected to the Thirty-second congress from the Nineteenth district, comprising Mahoning, Trumbull, Portage and Summit counties. He declined a second election to devote himself to the practice of his profession, which extended over all the northeastern part of the state and into western Pennsylvania. He was born in Goshen, Connecticut, Oct. 16, 1795, and lived till past eighty-five.

NORTON S. TOWNSHEND.

Norton S. Townshend of Lorain county was a member of the Ohio state senate in 1854-1856, representing the Twenty-seventh senatorial district, composed of Lorain and Medina counties. He was elected to the Thirty-second congress in 1850 from the Twenty-first district, Lorain, Huron, Erie and Medina counties. His greatest political achievement was in the Ohio legislature, where, holding the balance of power between the Whig and Democratic parties, he brought about the election of Salmon P. Chase to the senate and the repeal of the "Black Laws" of Ohio. After being in congress he devoted himself to educational pursuits in Iowa, Ohio and elsewhere. He was connected with the Ohio State university for many years. Mr. Townshend was born in Clay Coetan, Northamptonshire, England, Dec. 25, 1815.

JOHN SCOTT HARRISON.

John Scott Harrison was both the son and the father of a president, both of whom served in the congress of the United States, the first from Ohio and the second from Indiana. He was a leading citizen of Hamilton county all his life, given to agricultural pursuits, and a man of education and culture, and noted for his hospitality.

He was elected to the Thirty-second congress in 1852 from the Second district, comprising a part of Hamilton county. In 1854 he was elected to the Thirty-fourth congress from the same district. After retiring from congress he continued to lead a quiet and useful life on his farm at North Bend, a patron of art and literature, and esteemed by the entire community.

Mr. Harrison was born in Vincennes, Indiana, Jan. 29, 1802, while his father was governor of the territory. He died at North Bend, Ohio, May 26, 1878.

MATTHIAS H. NICHOLS.

Matthias H. Nichols, who was born in Salem county, N. J., Oct. 3, 1824, was one of the early settlers of Allen county, a prominent lawyer and leading citizen, and was honored with numerous positions of trust and responsibility in local affairs. In 1852 he was elected to the Thirty-third congress from the Fourth district, Allen, Mercer, Auglaize, Shelby, Darke and Miami counties, and was elected from the same district to the Thirty-fourth in 1854 and to the Thirty-fifth in 1856. For many years he was a resident of Williams county.

ANDREW ELLISON.

Andrew Ellison represented Brown county in the state legislature in the Sixth, Seventh and Forty-fifth general assemblies, being first elected in 1807, and again in 1846. He was elected to the Thirty-third congress in 1852 from the Sixth district, composed of Brown, Clermont, Highland and Adams, and served a single term. He was born in Ireland in 1785, and died seventy-five years later.

AARON HARLAN.

Aaron Harlan, who was a prominent citizen of Green county, and an attorney, represented that county in the Thirty-first general assembly in 1832-1833, and in the Forty-fourth in 1860-1862. He was also a member of the state senate in the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth, and the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth general assemblies.

In 1852 he was elected to the Thirty-third congress, as a Whig, from the Seventh district, Greene, Fayette, Madison, Warren and Clinton counties, and was elected to the Thirty-fourth in 1854 and to the Thirty-fifth in 1856, from the same district. Both as a member of the legislature and congress he displayed a high order of ability. He was born in Warren county, Ohio, Sept. 8, 1802, and lived to an advanced age.

WILLIAM R. SAPP.

For almost half a century William R. Sapp was one of the leading members of the Knox county bar at Mt. Vernon, was prosecuting attorney of the county and filled other local positions. In 1852 he was elected to the Thirty-third congress from the Fifteenth district, Knox, Holmes, Tuscarawas and Coshocton counties, and was re-elected to the Thirty-fourth in 1854 from the same district. He displayed good ability on the floor of congress.

HARVEY H. JOHNSON.

Harvey H. Johnson was a man of local prominence of Ashland county, and highly esteemed by his friends and neighbors for his good qualities as a citizen, and served but a single term, having been elected in 1852 to the

UNBEARABLE ITCHING

Felt It Would Be a Relief to Tear Skin From Back. Cured by CUTICURA.

I had a breaking out all over my back. The itching was almost unbearable, and at times I felt that it would be a relief to tear the skin off my back. I tried doctors' prescriptions, and several remedies, without even relief. I read of your CUTICURA remedy in the Indianapolis News. After three applications, my back got itching, and by the time the box of CUTICURA Ointment was half used the itching had all disappeared.

SOUTH CAROLINA CAPITOL.

The Battle Scarred Statehouse is to be Completed Soon.

South Carolina is about to complete a public building begun two generations ago, says the Columbia correspondent of the New York World. The change in architecture and in the wealth of the country is demonstrated by the fact that when this building was designed by John H. Nierse of Baltimore it was to be the handsomest and most costly capital of any state in the Union.

On the western end this great granite structure carries the marks of war and battle that will never be effaced and is probably the only statehouse in the country bearing the imprint of cannon shot. These will show to future generations the kind of guns used in the bloody conflict. When General Sherman's artillery reached the hills of Lexington on the opposite side of the Congaree from Columbia and just two miles from the statehouse, that great white structure presented a target that must have been tempting for several guns were brought to bear, and the shooting was accurate. The building was hit ten times, four of the shells passing through the windows and striking in the interior, while six hit on the outside. But the walls are from four to six feet thick, of granite almost too hard to work, and, excepting for smashing the balustrades at one of the windows, no damage was done. The shells just dug out about an inch of the granite and must have left particles of iron imbedded, as the marks are made more prominent by the appearance of iron rust on the white surface.

Stored in the statehouse yard was an immense quantity of sculptured Italian and Tennessee marble and South Carolina granite as well as a quantity of blocks in the rough. These blocks are still in the yard and will be used in the completion. Now they were hauled three miles from "Granby quarry," on the Congaree, is puzzling to engineers now. It is said that 60 oxen furnished the motive power, but there is no description of the kind of cart that bore the weight. All the finer materials for decoration were destroyed, including small original and colossal models, statues and original basso-reliefs like those of Hayne and McDuffie and the latest and best bust of Calhoun. Architect Nierse in 1865 put the loss by fire and vandalism at $800,000.

Fourteen years ago work was begun on the completion of the statehouse. It having been made temporarily habitable after the close of the civil war. About a quarter of a million was then spent, but the "reformers" stopped the work, as it was deemed extravagant. It has now been definitely determined to push the work to completion. Designs have been accepted, and work will begin in a few weeks. Much of the material in stone and marble that has been lying on the ground in the statehouse yard for 50 years will be used as it was originally intended.

Nothing is to be done on the west side, so the shell marks will not be removed.

GREAT UPHEAVAL TO COME.

A Russian View of the Crisis in China.

The London Daily Express publishes the following from St. Petersburg: "Prince Ochtchonsky, editor of the Vedomosti, a great Chinese authority, says the Russians are one of the old secret societies with which modern China is honeycombed. They have been working against foreigners for generations. The Boxers will probably be put down, but it is feared that a great number of men, women and children will be murdered before that can be effected.

"The prince says the present difficulty is temporary and cannot be compared with the great upheaval that is to come. He adds: "The awakening of the Chinese will be terrible. All those warlike instruments of destruction the use of which they are being taught will probably be turned against the Europeans themselves. The Chinese have no fear of death, and they make excellent soldiers under European instructors. The prospect for Europe and Europeans is not pleasant."

The Russian minister at Peking, who also acts as the envoy of Denmark, is credited with having wired to the Danish foreign office that a demonstration had been planned, under the leadership of England and Russia, in which all the great powers and several of the smaller will take part. The latter are not called upon to send troops, as there are enough on the spot, but they are to be asked to delegate the right to hoist their flags to the great powers in order that a demonstration may be made or a battle fought under the flags of all Europe.

Japan and the United States have been informed and agree to the arrangement.

Electric Fans For India.

At last the punkah cooly in India is to have a season of repose. The Indian government has issued orders for the installation of electric fans in various barracks and military stations, dispensing with the half hearted and sleepy wallah whose immemorial duty it has been to pull the string of the punkah, or ceiling fan, whenever aroused thereby by the cursings or beatings of the perspiring white man, says the New York Sun. Now he is to be replaced by the whizzing and sleepless electric fan, and the suggestion has been made in good faith that the coolies confined in the local jails be set to work on a treadmill and the energy thus generated used to work dynamos and charge storage batteries for operating the fans. Nothing has yet been heard from the punkah pullers' union, and it is likely that the plan is outlined will be carried into effect.

STORIES OF BELLE BOYD

Famous Confederate Spy of Civil War Time.

TWICE SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.

Stonewall Jackson's High Appreciation of Her Services—Was Banished by Lincoln—How She Outwitted Many Federal Officers—Her Capture and Marriage.

The sudden death in Kilbourne, Wis., the other day of Belle Boyd, the noted spy of the Confederates, recalls another leaf in the history of the civil war. It recalls the thrill, the danger, the triumphs, the reverses, the many ups and downs in the life of the most determined woman for the Union ever had. Little has been heard of Belle Boyd in recent years, and to the present generation her name recalls nothing, but the time was when that name caused many a secret council at army camps and many a plan was hatched to place its owner where she could not add to the harm she had done, says the New York Times. Living only in her undying love for the cause of the southern people, and debarr'd by her sex from carrying a musket, she dedicated to the Confederate army the only weapons that she possessed—a woman's beauty and a woman's wiles.

But recently out of school when the war began, she flung to the winds everything that was dear that she might help the flag of her choice, and her daring exploits and services to the Confederate army became familiar to the whole world. During her career she was twice sentenced to be shot, and for 11 months was a prisoner in the old Carroll and Capitol prisons in Washington. With indomitable will she kept in the struggle, however, until 1864, when, while trying to run the blockade with important dispatches, she was captured and banished from the country by President Lincoln. So highly did Stonewall Jackson value her services that after his defeat of General Banks on May 23, 1862, he sent her this note: "Miss Belle Boyd—I thank you for my self and for the army for the humane service that you have rendered your country today."

Her whole career was one of romance and adventure. Born in Martinsburg, Va., now West Virginia, in May, 1843, she was related to a number of the most noted families of Virginia. The Hon. Charles J. Faulkner, minister to France under the Buchanan administration, father of ex-United States Senator Faulkner of West Virginia, and Judge John Blair Hoge, United States attorney for the District of Columbia during the Cleveland administration, were her cousins. She had just finished her education in Mount Washington Female college in Baltimore when the war broke out. Her whole soul was with the Confederate cause. Her residence within the Federal lines and her acquaintance with many Union officers enabled her to gain much important information regarding the position and designs of the enemy, which she regularly committed to paper and, when opportunity offered, dispatched to the nearest Confederate commander.

In a hundred ways the 17-year-old girl was able to outwit many Federal officers whose gallantry got the better of their discretion. The covers and poetry of her many epauleted admirers in the hated blue she kept, but all of the information of value which they indiscreetly dropped she immediately dispatched to her countrymen in gray. General Shields of the Union army was quartered at her house, and when he held a council of war she lay on the floor of her chamber above, with her ear to a hole, and taking down every word, sent it to General Jackson and thereby helped to win a great battle.

Very soon afterward her actions were suspected by the Federal officers, and she was arrested, but she soon flitted her way to liberty. Acting upon General Jackson's advice, she removed to Winchester in the summer of 1862, and it was there and then that she received her commission as captain and honorary aid to the general and thenceforth enjoyed the respect paid to an officer. Upon the occasion of the review of the troops in the presence of Lord Hartington and Colonel Leslie and again when General Willcox's division was inspected by Generals Lee and Longstreet she attended on horseback and associated with the staff officers of the several commanders.

Her greatest service, however, was that of a spy. For months and years she withstood every privation and lived constantly within the shadow of death. Her name was passed from one Federal army to another, and the greatest honors awaited the officer or sentry who would capture her. The man who finally accomplished the feat afterward sacrificed everything for her. Belle Boyd was captured on the blockade runner Greyhound in 1864 by a gunboat in command of Lieutenant Samuel Harding of Brooklyn. She and two Confederate officers were being conveyed on the gunboat to Boston, and during the trip Lieutenant Harding lost his heart to the beautiful prisoner. He proposed marriage.

"So generous and noble had he been in everything," she said in telling of the romance years afterward, "that I told him I would be his wife, though our politics differed. 'Woman,' thought I, 'can sometimes work wonders, and may not even be come by degrees to love for my sake the ill used south?'" Even before this romantic voyage was ended the implacable foe of the north connived at the escape of her two Confederate fellow prisoners. She herself was sentenced to be shot and afterward was banished from the country. Lieutenant Harding was arrested for allowing the two prisoners to escape, but was not convicted. Shortly afterward he deserted and followed the whirling rebel to England, where he married her, the Prince of Wales attending the wedding. He returned to this country later and, following his wife's example, became a Confederate spy. Harding lived only four years after his marriage. In 1899 Belle Boyd, who had become an actress, married Colonel John S. Hammond, an ex-British army officer, in New Orleans and went to live in California. She was divorced from her husband in 1884 and a year later married Nathaniel R. High, son of an Episcopal clergyman of Toledo, with whom she lived until her death. She featured for years, principally at Grand Army encampments throughout the country, where many an old soldier remembered her as the most daring woman in the Confederacy.

UNIQUE GAVELS.

Description of Two For Use at Republican National Convention.

Two gavel made out of the wood of historic trees and historic buildings in all parts of the United States are to be presented to the Republican national convention at Philadelphia for the use of the chairman by Benjamin F. Smith of Stewart, O.

They have been specially made after two years' work in gathering the materials, and each bit of the wood is marked with the name of the state from which it comes and the number of the state's delegates to the Philadelphia convention.

After the convention, according to an Upper Seminary (O.) dispatch to the Chicago Times-Herald, the plan is to present one gavel to Senator Hanna and the other to President McKinley.

In the gavel there is dogwood from Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln was born; pine from the Maine residence in which James G. Blaine lived; walnut wood from Gettysburg, "Key" wood from Hopkinton, N. H., from a tree that was on exhibition at the Chicago World's fair, a bit of a log from a cabin in which John Brown lived at Ossawatimie, Kan.; wood from the New York Tribune building, wood from a palm tree near the City of David, Jerusalem, and wood from the fort of Bunker Hill, constructed by the pilgrims in 1622.

These are only a few of the many bits of wood which make the gavel unique. The bits of wood have been so carefully fitted together that they give the gavel a very handsome appearance, and Mr. Smith is delighted with the results of his painstaking labor.

He has also used bits of the same wood to fit together two cases, one of which he will keep and the other give to a friend, and on these he has engraved the predictions he makes of the way the electoral votes of the different states will be divided between McKinley and Bryan, giving the former 308 and the latter 153 votes.

LITHOGRAPH STONE LEDGES

Valuable Discovery Made in the Black Hills, Near Hermosa, S. D.

What is likely to prove one of the most important discoveries made in the Black Hills for a number of years was made near Hermosa, S. D., a few weeks ago in the form of several ledges of lithograph stone, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. It is a fact well known to miners and lithographers that up to the time the present discovery was made no lithograph stone that would endure the demands of the trade could be found on the continent. As a consequence all first class lithograph stone had to be imported from Bavaria.

The stone was submitted to a long and thorough test and found to be equal in quality to the best that is imported. The Black Hills Porcelain, Clay and Marble company has purchased nearly 500 acres of the lithograph ledges and will erect two large plants, which are intended to supply the trade of the United States.

JOKE ON THE ENGLISHMAN.

Repartee of a Boer as Told by Envoy Wessels.

During his speech at Omaha the other night C. H. Wessels, the Boer envoy, told the following story, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The English nation is great in wealth and soldiers. We knew it when we began. There is a story told of an innocent, slow thinking Boer, who was once conversing with an Englishman. 'Why, don't you know that England is so great that the sun never sets on her soil?' said the Englishman to the Boer. The innocent Boer thought a moment and then replied, 'Yes, I guess that God is afraid to trust the Englishman in the dark.'"

Automobile Storage Rooms.

The coming fashionable apartment house will have storage rooms for automobiles. When houses were fitted up with bicycle storage rooms, it was regarded as something decidedly "modern." A new apartment house in New York is being planned with automobile storage rooms. The owner of the house intends to rent apartments only to persons who are wealthy enough to own automobiles, says the Chicago Record. Every arrangement will be provided for charging storage batteries, and this will necessitate the keeping of a staff of mechanics to clean, oil, repair and adjust the motor machinery of the self goers. In some cities the liveries have practically boycotted the automobile, claiming the electric vehicle injures their trade.

Latest Trick Game.

The newest trick game, according to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, is called Koo-Jee and consists of a box containing six marbles, each of which must be placed in a particular hole

ECZEMA=SATANIC ITCH.

This most aggravating and tormenting of all skin diseases is caused by an acid condition of the blood, and unless relieved through certain instrumentalities too much of this acid poison reaches the skin and it becomes red and inflamed. The itching and burning are almost unbearable, especially when overheated from any cause. The skin seems on fire, sleep or rest is impossible, the desperate sufferer, regardless of consequences, scratches until strength is exhausted. This burning, itching humor appears sometimes in little pustules, discharging a sticky fluid, which forms crusts and scales. Again the skin is dry, hard and fissured, itches intensely, bleeds and scabs over. This is a painful and stubborn form of the disease. While Eczema, Tetter, Itch, Scabies, Salt Rheum and many like troubles are spoken of as diseases of the skin, they are really blood diseases, because

THERE CAN BE NO EXTERNAL IRRITATION WITHOUT AN INTERNAL CAUSE.

If the blood is in a pure, healthy condition, no poisonous elements can reach the skin. External applications of trashes, lotions and salves sometimes mitigate the itching and soothe the inflammation, but cannot reach the disease. Only S. S. S., the real blood medicine, can do this. S. S. S., the only purely vegetable remedy known, is a safe and permanent cure for Eczema and all deep-seated blood and skin troubles. It goes direct to the seat of the disease, neutralizes the acids and cleanses the blood, re-inforces and invigorates all the organs, and thus clears the system of all impurities through the natural channels; the skin relieved, all inflammation subsides, and all signs of the disease disappear.

Mrs. Lela M. Hoffman, of Cardington, Ohio, says she was afflicted with Scrofulous sores and Eczema from birth. Her face at times became so badly swollen that she was not recognizable, and her limbs and hands were very sore. She was treated by all the doctors in town without being benefited, and in her desperation for relief, was told by an old physician to take S. S. S. She followed his advice and was promptly cured, and has never had a return of the disease. This was seventeen years ago. She sincerely believes she would have been in her grave years ago but for S. S. S., and adds, "what it has done for me it will do for others."

Send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases, and write our physicians fully about your case; they will cheerfully give any information or advice wanted. We make no charge for this. Address, Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I woke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liverman, Burgettsbury, Washington, Pa. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

To Niagara Falls.

One of the most enjoyable and popular excursions of the season will be via the C. H. & D. Ry. to Niagara Falls on August 9th. Same rates as were in effect last year. Details can be had from any C. H. & D. agent.

SPEEDY

Game Was Played by the Crescents.

Outclassed the Visitors at Every Stage.

The Sidney Boys Played Well But Were Up Against a Winning Team and Went Home Defeated.

The base ball game between the Sidney team and the Crescents at Fawcett's park yesterday afternoon was the best contest that has been witnessed in Lima this season, and as usual the Lima boys still carry 1,000 per cent. If their colors come down during the season the feat will have to be accomplished by a stronger team than that which the Wagner beer town affords.

Sidney worked three pitchers in yesterday's game and the "Kids" put two of them out of the business and took considerable starch out of the third before their eighth half was finished. The attendance was the largest of the season and one commendable feature was that the spectators, though enthusiastic, were orderly throughout the game.

For six innings the visitors never scored a run and only secured a couple of hits off of Smith who pitched an excellent game with the exception of his usual wildness which gave several men bases on balls. In the seventh inning the Sidney players launched a few "smashes" with a couple of Crescent errors and two crucial jumpers scored but that was the only inning in which a visitor passed third base. The total score was, Crescents, 9; Sidney, 2. The Crescents' going to but only in 5 innings. The score by innings was as follows:

Innings—Sidney, 0; Crescent, 9. Pitchers—Sidney, Pardon, Smith, Taylor and Elliot; Lima, Smith and Frank Smith. Umpire—Clyde Cook.

Lyle "fought" a couple of hot grounders at short but made up for his errors by slugging out the only home run of the day and by stopping a hot one that credited him and L. Smith and (Vaughan) with a double play.

Mert Scott's made some of the fastest plays in the game. The manner in which he holds his position and while the pugkin over to first reminds the fans of little Deleahanty.

Sidney's star player, Casey, was sent yesterday. The Sidney team is made up of a congenial, gentlemanly crowd of husky lads who will always be welcomed to the home grounds.

Sidney's left fielder, Pether, made a running one hand catch in the game. Following the game at the Fair grounds there was a grand ball game between the two teams. The Wagoner's Reds will be here next Sunday and Ada is booked for July 4th.

DEATH'S HAND

Suddenly Saddens the Home of Mr. and Mrs. McNeff.

Death has brought irretrievable sadness to a home, which but a few days ago was joyfully brightened by the arrival of a bright little son. Mr. and Mrs. John McNeff of 419 north McDonald street, today mourn the loss of their only child, the babe who was the pride and joy of his fond parents. The infant was getting along nicely until Saturday evening when he was taken suddenly ill, and a physician was summoned. Later in the evening the babe became worse and Rev. A. E. Manning was called and the sacrament of baptism was administered, and at three o'clock Sunday morning the sufferer passed into the sleep of death. The funeral was held from St. Rose church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the little body was laid away in Gethsemani cemetery.

The deepest sympathy of Mr. and Mrs. McNeff's legion of friends is extended in this their hour of great bereavement.

WERE WEDDED

Saturday afternoon Mr. Wil Dunbar and Miss Cora Rader of south line street were married at the residence of Rev. Clarence Mitchell 612 south Pine street. The young people will be at home to their friends at south Main street where they will have the wedding reception.

RESIGNS

To Enter Into a New Field of Labor.

Rev. Rupe Retires From the First Baptist Church

And Will Leave Lima For the West, His Wife's Health Demanding a Change of Climate.

The congregation of the First Baptist church was notified from the pulpit yesterday that their pastor, the Rev. C. M. Rupe, desired to tender his resignation, to take effect on July 22. Mr. Rupe stated, by way of explanation, that his wife's physical condition was such as to demand a change of climate, and it was his intention, after severing his connection with the Lima church, to begin work in a new field, going either to California or Arizona.

Mr. Rupe has been doing effective work as pastor of the Lima Baptist church for the past four years, and has, during that time endeavored himself to the congregation as well as establishing warm friendships among the people in general. While regretting the step he has been obliged to take, the well-wishes of the church members and those who are on intimate terms with the minister, will follow him into his new field of labor.

"STOP THIEF"

Yelled Hughes, and Ran Into an Officer's Arms.

Tables Were Turned and Hughes is in Jail Awaiting Payment of a Fine.

Constable Cremon acting in his official capacity for the Humane Society, arrested John Hughes, of Vaughansville yesterday for leaving his horse standing all day without attention. Hughes saw the officer driving off with the rig and ran after him with blood in his eye. When the tables were turned and Hughes was started in the direction of the city prison, he begged to be let go and ordered officer Cremon a quarter for his liberty. Justice Duffield this morning assessed Hughes $5 and costs and sent him to jail until the money is forthcoming.

STAR COURSE

For the Y. M. C. A. For Next Season is Arranged.

H. J. Norman, associate manager of the Brockway Lecture Bureau, was in the city Saturday and arranged with the Y. M. C. A. for the star course of next season. The course is unquestionably the strongest ever presented in Lima, and includes General J. B. Gordon, John Temple Graves, The Boston Sixtette (six soloists from the Boston Symphony Orchestra), The Brookway Grand Concert Company (including Wilkes, Beresford, and other artists of equal standing), Elias Day, Dr. Robert S. McArthur, and the famous Boston Ideal Banjo and Mandolin Club. The course is so much more expensive than previous ones that there will be a slight increase in the price of reserved seats, but the course tickets will be held at the old price of $1.00 each.

FIVE AND COSTS

And Five Days in Jail Was Purcell's Prize.

Tom Purcell, the young man who has been a prisoner at the police station for several days, and who attempted suicide by swallowing a small quantity of carbolic acid, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs and to five days imprisonment for stealing a lantern.

TRIBUTE

Of Love and Respect Fittingly Paid

To the Memory of Departed Members.

Annual Memorial Services Held by I. O. O. F. and Rebecca Lodges at the South Side Church of Christ Yesterday.

The annual memorial services held by the local Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges at the south side church of Christ yesterday afternoon were the most beautiful and impressive ceremonies of the kind ever witnessed in that handsome edifice. The services throughout was an eloquent testimonial of Odd Fellowship and its many commendable environments.

The church was crowded to its utmost capacity, each of the several local lodges being excellently represented by members wearing the regalia of the order and a large coterie of others who appreciated the noble principles of the order. The members of Solar lodge No. 753, Lima lodge No. 581, and Allen lodge No. 223, Lima Encampment No. 62, Canton Orion P. M., No. 24, Golden Gate Rebekah lodge No. 200, Estella lodge No. 477 and Shawnee Rebekah lodge No. 240 and fully 50 visiting members from the adjoining towns marched to the church in a body and all appreciated fully the beautiful ceremonies that followed the reports from the various local lodges of the following reports of members who have departed from mortal life during the past year.

ROSTER OF THE DEAD.

Dr. H. L. Hall
Henry I. Whitney.
David D. Leila
Harry Lister.
John Ruther.
Mrs. J. D. Benson.
The memorial sermon was delivered by Rev. Clarence Mitchell, pastor of the south side church of Christ, and a member of solar lodge and was both eloquent and instructive throughout. He spoke of considerable length upon the charitable, christian and moral features of the order, exhorting it for the noble work accomplished in behalf of the poor, stricken homes throughout the civilized world. The address was a scholarly one throughout and the audience was deeply impressed with the I. O. O. F. is one of the most noble orders on earth.

DARING AERIAL FEATS

That admittedly great discerning credit, Col. Franklin Fyles of the New York Sun, in commenting on the extraordinary integrity and marvellousness of the feats of the four Potters the daring acrobats who are with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' combined circuses, which, by the way, will exhibit in all their full bloom summer beauty in Lima on Wednesday, June 20 said in the issue of the Sun of April 21:

"Aerial feats are never so attractive in theatres or music halls as in the greater heights that a circus usually affords. Four gymnasts, the Potters, at the Madison Square Garden, prove this clearly enough. Two are men, and the others are youths, apparently. After a tumbling act on one of the stages of the arena they retired for a few moments and reappear for the most important part of their work. They climb up among the rafters of the Garden, each of the men taking his place on a trapeze hung far from the others. When the apparatus has been set in motion the men swing themselves to a third bar suspended between the first two. Its distance is enough to make the flights seem marvellous to the spectators, so narrow is the margin by which the men save themselves from falling into the net.
